Effect of Treatment with Low Doses of Hydrocortisone and Fludrocortisone on Mortality in Patients With Septic Shock

August 21, 2002

Placebo-controlled, randomized, double-blind, parallel-group trial

In patients with septic shock, hydrocortisone combined with fludrocortisone improved the 28-day mortality and reduced the duration of vasopressor therapy in the non-responders to corticotropin test.

